This Document!

This Chapter Planning Guide serves as a summary of Georgia Phi Beta Lambda (PBL) events and programs for the upcoming year. Please remember that this is a guide and that dates and amounts may change during the planning of each event. More comprehensive documents for each conference become available online prior to the conference. The Chapter Management Handbook remains the most complete resource for students and advisers.

Membership Dues

Although each chapter may set its own dues amount, national dues are $10 and state dues are $8, for a total of $18. Advisers may pay dues on the national website.

Members must be listed on the national website showing payment of dues by the following dates to participate in the following events:

- Georgia Fall Leadership Conference, October 1
- District Conferences, February 1
- State Conference, March 21
- National Conference, April 1

State and National Themes

The 2016-2017 State Theme is:

Georgia Phi Beta Lambda Structure

Chapters

Post-secondary institutions may apply to the national office for a local charter - very easy to do! Chapters can be found at most of the technical colleges in our state as well as in a few of the two and four-year colleges. In addition, students at institutions without a PBL chapter may be just as involved through the Georgia PBL Virtual Chapter or may begin a chapter at their school.

Members

Students at virtually any postsecondary institution in Georgia can join PBL either through their own college or the Georgia PBL Virtual Chapter. Membership dues are paid to the national office and cover both national and state requirements. Tiffanie Root is the adviser for the virtual chapter.

Advisers

Chapters have at least one faculty or staff member who serves as the adviser for their student membership.

Georgia PBL Executive Board

Georgia PBL is guided through an active (and tireless!) executive board. Members of the board include the Executive Director, the State Adviser, the Awards Director, the Financial Director, the Professional Division President, the Profession Division Secretary, the State leadership Consultant, the State Public Relations Coordinator/Virtual Chapter Adviser, the Georgia PBL Foundation President, and the Georgia PBL Foundation Financial Director.

PBL Professional Division

The Professional Division is composed of non-students who are interested in being a part of PBL. This group includes chapter advisers and local businesspeople that support PBL through their time and financial support. Their affiliation is at both the state and national level. Membership dues are $23 per year.

Georgia PBL Foundation, Inc.

The Georgia PBL Foundation is a fund-raising body whose mission is to support Georgia PBL financially. The Georgia PBL Foundation does so through the Foundation scholarship, reimbursement of national registration for first place students, funding the chapter grant, and funding the Adviser of the Year and Chapter of the Year awards.

Recognition Programs with PBL

Competitive Events

PBL offers its members a chance to receive recognition in over 30 separate competitive events. These events might be a written test over specific knowledge or a performance or speaking event. Competitions can be individual efforts, teams of two or more, or a chapter-wide effort.

Scholarships

There are a number of scholarship opportunities at the state and national level. There are two Foundation awards given each year at the state conference and a national scholarship given at that conference.

Chapter of the Year

Local chapters are encouraged to “put their hat in the ring” for the Chapter of the Year award. This award is given at the state conference and is based on a series of criteria that a chapter works on year-round.

At the National level, the Hollis and Kitty Guy Gold Seal Chapter Award of Merit is given to chapters who complete a set of accomplishments.

Awards of Merit

There are five Awards of Merit: Blue, Bronze, Silver, Gold, and Platinum. Each is based on the same 50-point criteria, with each level being based on the number of criteria achieved by a chapter.

Adviser of the Year

The Adviser of the Year award is given to the nominated adviser who achieves the most points based on the activities completed by his/her chapters. Advisers are nominated by their members.

State Projects

These projects are recognized at the state conference and a number at the national conference for chapters excelling in each effort.

March of Dimes

The March of Dimes is our nationally designated charity. Chapters’ work year-round raising funds for MOD; those raising the most are recognized at the state and national conferences.

March of Dimes funds are given by chapters to their local March of Dimes office with the receipt copied and sent with the state conference materials. There is also a March of Quarters event held annually at the Georgia Fall Leadership Conference. Awards are given for chapters who raise the most funds; Georgia is consistently the number one state in the nation for raising MOD funds!

Interaction with FBLA

Interaction with FBLA is a critical aspect of the growth of Phi Beta Lambda. Chapters’ efforts to coordinate events and work with FBLA chapters are recognized at the state conference.

New Chapter Recruitment

Another valuable effort in the growth of Georgia PBL is the recruitment of new chapters. In addition to some post-secondary institutions never having had a PBL chapter, some chapters are inactive for periods of time. Chapters' efforts to coordinate events and work with new or re-activated PBL chapters are recognized at the state conference.

Corporate Sponsors

Chapters and members are greatly encouraged to seek corporate sponsorship of the competitive events at the state conference. These sponsors are listed in the state program and displayed during the awards banquet.

Foundation Donations

Chapters are encouraged to donate to the Georgia PBL Foundation. Chapters are encouraged to donate at least $400. A silent auction is held each year at the state conference for the Foundation. Each chapter is asked to bring an item to donate to the silent auction.

GFLC Events

Members may participate in a small number of competitive events prior to the Georgia Fall Leadership Conference. These events are not part of the district, state, or national competitions but serve to start the spark of the competitive season.

Membership Madness

There are a number of national awards for students who recruit a specified number of members to their chapter.

CMAP

The Career and Membership Awards Program is a national series of activities that allows members the opportunity for personal and PBL development. There are three levels, in order: Director, Executive, and Presidential. Each includes a checklist of activity completion that must be submitted to the national office.

Free Advice!

Have a CMAP day where students get together to compose or prepare the documents needed for CMAP, especially for the Director level. Most documents can be created in a couple of hours!

Start working on Foundation donations, the Seal awards, and corporate sponsors early. The sooner these goals are accomplished, the better for focusing on other chapter projects and on competitive events!

PBL Conferences

State Officer Training

The officers elected at the state conference are not elected to a particular office but rather are chosen as a slate, as is done in each of the major student organizations in Georgia. Later, at the State Officer Training, the group of officers enjoys leadership sessions and team-building activities. At the end of the weekend, the team of reviewers chooses the position for each of the officers in each of the organizations.

GFLC

The Georgia Fall Leadership Conference is a premier officer training event held in October. State officers from each of the four major student organizations (PBL, SkillsUSA, National Technical Honor Society, the Georgia Student Government Association) lead local chapter officers and members in a series of officer development training sessions. Over the weekend in Atlanta, members of all organizations network and greatly strengthen their ability to lead their local chapters. Advisers also have a series of informational sessions to guide them on their PBL year.

Important GFLC dates/information:

- Dues eligibility deadline is October 1.
- Registration due is TBA.
- Competitive event deadline for materials (school-site tests, etc.) is October 1.
- Registration is $125.

District

There are two competitive event conferences that split the state horizontally at Macon. North District and South District Conferences are hosted by local chapters. Typically, South District is in February and North District, March. The competitive events are those competed in at State and later Nationals, but not all events are offered as this is a one-day, drive-in conference and time becomes an issue. All written tests are offered and approximately 9 performance events are available. Top five finishers in each event are awarded at the closing awards ceremony.

Important District dates:

- Dues eligibility deadline: February 1
- Registration due, South: February 1
- Registration due, North: February 1
- School-site tests postmarked by: January 25
- Registration: $35, includes lunch

State Leadership Conference

The Georgia PBL State Conference is held each year in April and has always been in Atlanta. This weekend-long event includes competitions, guest speakers, state officer elections, a silent auction, and many other activities. For many, this conference is the culmination of several months' work. All of the major state awards are determined at this time. The top finishers at state are then eligible to continue to the National Leadership Conference.

Important State dates:

- Registration is due March 21.
- School-site tests postmarked by March 21.
- All awards materials, such as Interaction with FBLA evidence, Seal awards evidence, Adviser and Chapter of the Year evidence, etc. is due March 21.
- Dues eligibility deadline is April 1.
- Registration, Students, is $110.
- Registration, Advisers, $110.

National Leadership Conference

Anaheim, California is the site for 2017's NLC. Chapters and their members from across the country will compete in events and take part in leadership and professional development activities. The national officers are elected and set the stage for the next year.

Important NLC dates:

- Competitive event materials due May 15
- Registration due: May 15
- Registration (usually): $105

Institute for Leaders

Immediately prior to the NLC, the Institute for Leaders provides organizational and leadership training sessions for state and local chapter officers, members, and advisers. This two-day training conference prepares student leaders and members to assume their elected responsibilities and develop valuable life skills.

Conference Information

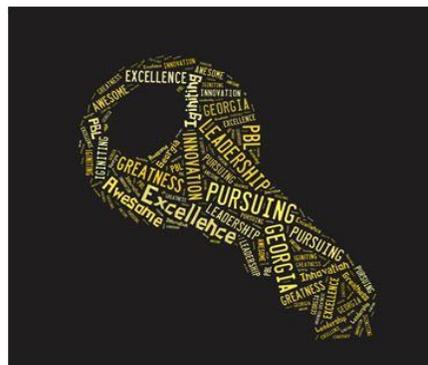

Information Packets

Information documents are posted to the Georgia PBL website as they become available, usually months prior to the conference. Some documents, such as the Awards of Merit criteria, Adviser and Chapter of the Year Award criteria, scholarship applications, and a performance events summary are available year-round. These documents are typically updated in the summer; look for the dates on the documents posted as an indication of that update.

Registration

Registration for District and State is submitted through the Georgia PBL website. National Conference registration is completed via the national site. The GFLC has its own website for that registration.

The term “on-site registration” in this document refers to the time when a chapter arrives at a conference and receives their conference package that includes the conference program, name tags, etc.

Payments

Payments for registration for District and State are made payable to “Georgia PBL” and are due at the same deadline as registration. In lieu of an actual check, a copy of the invoice, PO, or requisition form is acceptable. Full payment must be made at the time of on-site registration.

Registration for the GFLC is made payable to the “Georgia PBL Foundation” and must be received by the on-site registration.

Registration Changes

Changes to competitive event registration not including additions may be made up to the week prior to the first day of the conference. Members may be added to the group attending a conference up to the on-site registration but may not compete. Competitive event changes for performance events are not allowed after the week-before deadline; however, a student registered for the conference by the due date may change from a performance event to a written test but must seek approval from a member of the Executive Board. This approval is freely given but must be reported to ensure the student competes in the event(s) for which he/she is registered.

Students competing in an event who are not registered for that event are not allowed to place in that event. That is, if a student registered for Public Speaking suddenly decides to drop and add Accounting Principles without approval from a member of the Executive Board, he/she will not be allowed to place in the Accounting Principles event. Let us know!

Hotels

For the National Leadership Conference, the national office secures the best rates possible for hotels at the conference and that information is delivered by them. The state conference for several years (and contracted through 2019) has been held at the Westin Atlanta North at Perimeter. District conference is intended to be a drive-in conference; however, the hosting school will have local hotel information available. The Georgia Fall Leadership Conference will be held in Atlanta.

Conference Packets

Each chapter receives a packet of materials when they arrive at the registration table at the state conference. This packet includes name tags, ribbons, conference programs, etc.

For district conferences, student might receive a goodie bag that will include a conference program.

Students Running for State Office

(Full materials are posted on the Georgia PBL website; the following is a summary)

State officer candidates interested in the positions of President and Vice Presidents will campaign to be members of the state officer team, not for a specific office, and must meet all eligibility requirements, including submission of the officer eligibility documentation listed below.

The following are the general eligibility requirements:

- YOU MUST BE ENROLLED IN SCHOOL THROUGH THE APRIL FOLLOWING THE STATE CONFERENCE DURING WHICH YOU ARE ELECTED.
- Throughout the term of office, you must have the support of your school, local chapter, local adviser, and the state executive committee.
- Each candidate must submit a resume, a one-page essay, an official transcript, a copy of CMAP Director level award (letter from National Headquarters stating that you have received the award), a letter of recommendation from her/his local adviser, and a letter of recommendation from a school official (VP, Dean, etc.).

Campaigning is permitted only at designated times during the State Conference. You may continue to wear any campaign items after 12:00 noon, but cannot distribute items except in the voting delegate seats in the Second General Session.

Voting delegates, chosen by each of the Georgia PBL chapters and designated by their green ribbons, vote on the candidates at the second general session which is held Saturday afternoon.

Competitive Events

The most comprehensive source for competitive events is always the Chapter Management Handbook. The events at the State Conference are exactly the same as those at the National Conference. District Conference events are only a partial list and a number of those events are shortened. Georgia Fall Leadership Conference events are not associated with District, State, or National events.

Some competitive events are individual events and others are two- to three-person team events. There are also chapter events in which the entire chapter may participate.

Competitive events fall into a number of types. The most common are the written tests. These tests are multiple-choice and contain 80-100 questions and are taken in a one-hour time limit. Many events are performance events, requiring the student to stand and deliver verbally. Some events are a combination of written test and performance, with the overall score a combination of the two. A few events are school-site tests that involve a proctored production test based on a computer application, the results of which are mailed to be judged. A couple of events involve composing a report that is pre-judged and competing in a performance component as well.

Students placing in the top three in written events are then eligible to compete at the national conference. Students placing in the top two of performance events are eligible. District competition has no bearing on the state conference.

Students may compete in any two events and an additional chapter event. Student may not compete in an event in which they have competed at an NLC or in which they have placed first or second at a Georgia PBL state or district conference.

Competitive Event Changes

As always, the Chapter Management Handbook is the leading resource for all things PBL, including event changes. Changes to events are made online each year as the national office seeks to improve events.

Free Advice!

The Georgia PBL Foundation publishes and sells a booklet, Competitive Speaking, which contains hundreds of suggestions for building and delivering performance events! The order form is listed on the Georgia PBL website.

Free Advice!

First-semester or other early students will not be especially competitive in written tests. That is, they'll be competing with students who are several semesters – and courses – ahead of them. However, performance events can be practiced to the point of being competitive and do not require such specific subject knowledge.

Free Advice!

Bring pencils already sharpened and A LOT of them!
